ROUGH PLAY CHARACTERIZES PUNAHOU-MAILE SOCCER GAME

Referees Too Lenient With Men Who Substitute Rough Stuff
For Football—High Schools Keep Lead By Beating Boatmen, While Punahou Team Moves Up a Notch.

HAWAIIAN ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

	P.	W.	L.	D.	GF.	GA.	Pts.
High School	4	4	0	0	9	1	8
Punahou	3	2	1	0	4	1	4
Maile	4	2	2	0	7	4	4
Healani	4	1	3	0	7	9	2
Kamehameha	3	0	3	0	3	15	0

High School 3, Healani 0.
Punahou 2, Maile 0.

There were some changes in the soccer league standing resulting from Saturday's games. High School had a comparatively easy time with the Healanis, as was expected, and Punahou took the long end of a 2 to 0 score from the Mailes, after one of the crappiest football games seen on a local field for some time. It was predicted that this last game would be a hummer, and such proved the case, although there was too little football and too much fouling to suit the spectators.

The first half of the Punahou-Maile game ended without a score, the ball hanging about even most of the time. Play was full of hard knocks and falls, the Mailes working like horses to gain the initial point. Play in the second half was mostly in Maile territory, and ten minutes before time Hoogs shot a pretty goal on a cross from left. The leather went into the extreme corner of the net, well out of the goalkeeper's reach. Sinclair scored the other goal after a scrimmage in the mouth of the net.

Discipline Needed.

In the other game High School secured two of its goals in the first half, Andrews and Marcellino being responsible for them. Koloida sent the ball through in the second for the final score.

The soccer season is well under way now, and two points about it stand clearly defined. The first is that all the teams, with the exception of High School, are inferior to last year, and the second is that the refereeing is too lenient. It isn't football to trip a man whenever he gets on the ball, as was done repeatedly last Saturday, and men who continually violate the rules should be summarily ordered from the field. A little disciplining would clear the atmosphere wonderfully.

ASAHI TEAM EASY WINNER

Slaughters Aalas In Deciding Game of Junior League
Series—Ragged Ball.

Standing of the Teams.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Asahi	6	1	.857
Aala	6	2	.750
C. A. U.	3	4	.429
Muhocks	3	5	.375
Palama	2	4	.333

C. A. U. 12, Muhocks 6.
Asahi 19, Aala 0.

How many fans that put up the disgraceful exhibition of booting and boneheadedness that the Aalas flashed Sunday, can hold second place in a puzzle. The Aalas lost by the modest score of 0 to 19 to the Asahis, in what was touted as the deciding game of the second half of the Junior League season. Much interest was manifested in the contest until it was well under way. After a few innings it became a slaughter, and the only interest in the game was to speculate whether or not the Asahi crowd would reach the twenty-run mark. The Aalas made 23 errors.

In the first game of the double-header, the C. A. U. team beat the Muhocks, 12 to 6. This was a slugging game plentifully sprinkled with errors, but it was not so rank as the Asahi-Aala affair.

The class of ball in the Junior League has gone off in the last six weeks. The Asahis have played several errorless games, but all the other teams have taken a slump.

LOCAL TENNIS MEN CONNECT

Bertram players made it three straight from Ewa in the inter-club doubles series played at Ewa Sunday. All of the three teams sent up by the local club scored victories. Three exhibition matches, two singles and a doubles, followed the scheduled play. Bertram winning two and losing one of these, making a grand total of five wins and one defeat for the day.

The scores:

Match.
Castle and Anderson beat McKeever and Greenfield, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4; Barnes and Nowell beat Eklund and O'Dowda, 6-4, 6-1; Bockus and Sinclair beat Benton and Collins, 6-4, 6-2.

Exhibition.

Castle beat Eklund, 6-1, 6-2; O'Dowda beat Bockus, 6-0, 10-8; Barnes and Nowell beat McKeever and Greenfield, 2-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Felix Handon, a Philadelphia man, is said to be the prospective buyer of the Philadelphia club. He is ready to pay $25,000 for Red Doolin's release and as much as $150,000 for the club's stock.

Cleveland has but one veteran pitcher—Willie Mitchell—who has been with the Naps for the last two years.

RANDOM SNAPSHOTS AT THE SPORTING TARGET

Gun Schaefer is going to mend his aeroplane. Burtin Fryer, the man who flew it, is also being mended aboard his ship, the West Virginia.

If the Maryland and Iowa teams get together for a third game, the players should agree to an indefinite number of extra quarters in case of a tie. Probably the excitement of a third even break would paralyze the business of Honolulu with excitement.

Soldier King couldn't run his proposed mile against Fitzgerald's record Saturday, because there was no stop watch in the crowd. Not even a pawn ticket could be found.

The veteran Kid Gleason of Philadelphia has secured an engagement to coach with the Chicago White Sox.

The Rochester club's manager, John Ganzel, has secured Whit Conroy from the Washington club, also Otto Johnson and J. Martin from the Highlanders.

The American League is trying to strengthen all its clubs so as to give Connie Mack a battle for the next season. Six have changed managers: Connie Mack and Jennings are the only ones left. Trades are still talked of, and there are likely to be some made when the schedule meeting takes place next month in Chicago.

Connie says he looks for a harder fight in 1912. "I look for the other clubs to be strengthened," said Mack. "So we will have to be up on our toes all season."

KEOGH WAS ONE DAY TOO LATE

Failure to have his challenge in on time has cost Jerome Keogh, the Rochester pocket billiard expert, another try for the championship trophy, which has become the permanent property of Alfredo de Oro.

De Oro defeated Keogh on November 20, 1910, since which time the Cuban has defeated Clearwater, Huston, Keogh and Weston. Keogh's last challenge should have been in by November 30. That was Thanksgiving day, and the letter reached the New York officials a day late. De Oro, supported by his lawyer, put in a claim for the trophy, and after correspondence with the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company of Chicago it was decided that the champion was right in his contention, and it now belongs to De Oro, he having held it for one year.

The Brunswick-Balke trophy, emblematic of the pocket billiard championship of the world, was put in competition in 1908 in a tournament held in Chicago, which was won by Frank Sherman of Washington, D. C. Others who competed were De Oro, Thomas Heuston, Edmund Pelletier, Benny Allen, H. B. Lean and Martin Fey. With the passing of the trophy a new one will have to be donated, and the officials probably will modify some of the present rules.

HOW ABOUT BIG FIGHT?

Sounds Like a Joke at First
Hearing But Johnson May Be All In.

BY LAURENCE REDINGTON.

When Jim Flynn, the "Pueblo Fireman," meets Jack Johnson inside the ropes next July for the heavyweight championship, he will learn something brand new about fighting smoke. And Jack isn't the sort of smoke that you can rush blindly into, with your nose covered by a damp sponge, and your ears filled with the ringing cheers of the multitude. Not by a long shot. He is just about the fastest big man the ring ever produced, and those upstarts of his come up just about as fast as Fireman Flynn used to come down when he hit the ground pole near the head of his cot.

The match, according to first announcements, is scheduled for next July in Nevada. This will give a full six months for press agent work and the circulation of several hundred different stories regarding the place and conditions of the fight and the abilities of the principals. The words "Nevada" and "July" ring strangely familiar in connection with a championship fight. We'll probably have the same old stuff over again, although it's hardly likely that this proposed Johnson-Flynn affair will raise anything like the wind that the Jeff Jack battle stirred up. Still, there's no telling what a little earnest press agent work, suggested by the pipe dreams of promoters, will do, and it wouldn't be much of a surprise if we found the whole country stirred up over the coming mill as the time for the meeting approached.

Curley a Wizard.

Jack Curley is looking after Flynn's interests, and Curley isn't overlooking any bets when it comes to boosting a big fight. It's rather of a surprise, though, to see Jack dropping the wrestling game to mix up with fights again, for several years he had the mat men playing dead and rolling over when he pulled the strings, and it must have taken a big slump in the box-office receipts to tempt him back to the punch-traders. Jack used to manage Tommy Ryan and also Tommy Burns, and there isn't much about fights, both inside and outside the ring, that he doesn't know.

Wrestlers have got some sense, but fighters are all nuts," was the way the genial Jack sized up exponents of the two manly arts to the writer a while back. "Most wrestlers know who they can beat and who can beat them, and they're willing to listen to reason, but I never knew a fighter yet who didn't think he was a world's champion under cover. The whole crowd are one big joke."

Depends on Condition.

But to return to Johnson and Flynn. The match isn't as grotesque as it would have been a year ago, for the reason that no one knows just how far and fast Jack Johnson has gone back. He has been flying round Europe for many merry months, and whether his iron constitution has come out whole or not, is a question to be taken into serious consideration. Flynn is learning a little all the time, and he may be in better shape to stand the strain of a long fight than Johnson.

But I doubt very much if Flynn has it in him to stall off punishment until Johnson is pumped. At Reno last July Jack showed himself to be one of the greatest fighters ever seen. He had it so far on poor old Jeff that there wasn't anything to it, and I'm inclined to think that he can land on Flynn just about as easily. Manager Jack Curley to the contrary notwithstanding.

However, there's that $25,000 win, lose or draw, and, of course, that's the milk in the colored coconut. And the dear public will foot the bill, as usual.

HOOGS GETS OFFICIAL STANDING FOR HIS TRIP

W. H. Hoogs will leave on the Manchuria tomorrow for China to take up the immigration work for the International Immigration and Colonization Company. He is given official standing by the following commission from the Governor:

"To all to whom these presents shall come, Greeting:
"I, Walter F. Frear, Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, hereby appoint William H. Hoogs of said Territory, a special commissioner to collect information and report the same to the Board of Agriculture and Forestry of said Territory in regard to cereals and other products of Manchuria, Siberia and other parts of Asia, with special reference to their value and availability as food products in said Territory and the possibility of producing them herein."

Mr. Hoogs' proxy on the Republican Territorial central committee will be wielded in his absence by Captain Paul Smith, while William Thompson becomes treasurer.

GOSSIP OF GOLF 200 FIGHTS AND LICKED 200 TIMES

The score of 281, made by Gilbert Nichols in the Metropolitan open championship at the Emerald (N. J.) Country Club, constitutes a new world's record for four rounds. The best score previously made was on July 3 and 4 at La Boudle, Versailles, in the open championship of France, when Armand Massy, who had tied with Harry Vardon the week previously for the open championship of Great Britain at Sandwich, returned a score of 284 for 72 holes. His rounds were 70, 74, 71, 69—284. Nichols' rounds were 70, 74, 71, 66—281.

Golf, like cricket, is a game where the accumulated experience and practice of years appears to add to the skill of the player up to an advanced age. If we make a hunt among the birth certificates of the cranks, says the Liverpool Post, we shall find that those who stand head and shoulders above the rest have attained an age which makes them, compared with a large number of those against whom they put their skill, comparatively old men. Brad, for instance, is 41, Vardon is 41, Taylor is 40, Herd 43, Amos the amateurs Mr. Ball is 48, Mr. Hilton 42, Mr. Laidlaw, who can still hold his own in practically any company, is nearly 51. Mr. Hutchings won the amateur championship when he was a grandfather. So it appears from the list that the best golfers, both professional and amateur, have reached the age of at least 40.

MIXED FOURSOME PLAY IS POPULAR

The mixed foursome tournament played at the Country Club last Saturday afternoon proved a popular move, and there is every probability that more events of the same kind will be held during the spring. Miss Achilles and Jack Galt won the cups presented by Mrs. C. M. Cooke Jr., getting a net 96 with an allowance of a stroke a hole. Miss Tenney and Harold Giffard were the scratch team, being third with 114-16, or two strokes behind the winners. Fifteen teams took part in the competition.

TWO IMPORTANT REAL ESTATE DEALS MADE

Two important real estate deals consummated Saturday afternoon were the sale of the Park Theatre site on Fort street to Fred Harrison for $200,000 through Williamson & Buttolph, and the purchase of the Wakefield Inn from William Bergin by Jack Scully at a price said to be $10,000. Scully will remodel the place and the new additions should make it a welcome addition to Honolulu's inns and grills.
